Dear Parents/Carers,

London Marathon

I'm writing to share some exciting news and to ask for your support. This year, I've decided to challenge myself by participating in the London Marathon, one of the most iconic races in the world, which is taking place on Sunday 21st April 2024.

Running the London Marathon is not only a personal goal for me but also an opportunity to raise funds for a charity and a much needed cause. That is why I am reaching out to you today.

I would be incredibly grateful if you could consider making a donation to support my marathon run. Your contribution, no matter how big or small, will go directly towards Action Medical Research, a British medical research charity that works to fund research to prevent and treat disease and disability in babies and children.

If you're able to donate, please visit <https://2024tcs londonmarathon.enthuse.com/pf/maxwell-thorne>
I am not able to take cash donations in person, so donating via the link above is the only possible method.

Thank you for taking the time to read this. Every donation counts and your generosity will make a real difference.

If you wish to ask me any other questions – or provide any last minute pieces of advice – please speak to me at the door before school.

Regards,

Max Thorne
