Dear Parents and Carers,

As you are aware we had OfSTED in school on Tuesday and Wednesday this week. We are unable to give any indication of the result of the inspection. The report will be back with the school in approximately three weeks for a factual accuracy check (this is just things like the number of classes and the names of Headteacher and Chair of Governors for example). It is then quality assured by HMI. This is to ensure that the report is in line with OfSTED own standards and framework and that the evidence base presented matches the findings in the report. The report is then published. The publication of the report is expected after the Easter holiday and we will email a copy to all parents as well as post a link to the OfSTED website.

I would first of all like to thank the staff for their hard work in the 2 ½ years since the last inspection. They continue to make me proud to be the Headteacher of this school and I know that parents can see how dedicated they are to providing the best quality education they can to all children. Secondly, thank you to the children who, as usual, behaved impeccably throughout the two days something which we are used to but that the inspectors specifically commented on during their time with us.

Thank you to all the parents who showed their support to the school and its continued improvement. I know that many of you spoke to the inspectors whilst they were here and some expressed their views through the free text on ParentView. These views are shared anonymously with the school, both positive and negative, and give us other things to be proud of and to improve in the future.

Once the report is published, we will communicate with parents how we intend to move forward with any key areas for improvement identified on the report.

OfSTED inspections are always an intense time for staff. They feel passionately about their roles, their school and most importantly the children. They are a brilliant group of people who care deeply about this school and I thank them all for their continued contributions.

Regards,

Antony Kern
Headteacher
