Illustrations

Illustrations are the pictures you see in books. They are created by an illustrator who works with the author. Some authors do their own illustrations.

Alex T. Smith

Alex is mainly known as being the creator of the Claude books.

He specialises in drawing

animals using simple lines.

Lines can have different thicknesses. Using more pressure or changing the angle of the pencil will create thinner or thicker lines.

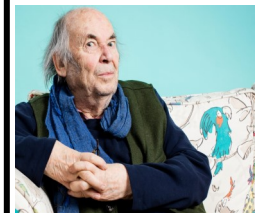

Sharper pencils create crisper, cleaner lines than blunt pencil.

A curve is a continuous smooth-flowing line with at least one bend but no corners.
